

Barrow AFC is an English professional football club which was founded in 1901 and is based in the town of Barrow-in-Furness, Cumbria. The club participates in EFL League 2, the fourth tier of the English league system after gaining promotion from the National League as champions in 2019/2020 and retaining their league status in 2020/2021.

Job title: First Team Analyst intern

Department: Analysis

Responsible to: Analysis Lead

Location: NW England. Barrow-in-Furness (matchday) Manchester (training)

Hours of Work: Hours to be suited around studies

Job Type: Internship, EFL Season 2021/22

Salary: CPD opportunities available

We are looking for a driven and passionate Sports Performance Analysis student/intern to join the Analysis Department for the 2021/22 EFL season to play an active role in performance and recruitment analysis.

Role Criteria:

- Positive work ethic, punctual and professional at all times when carrying out roles and duties
 - Develop new research ideas and propose them to the department
 - Abide to all club and EFL policies
 - To assist the Analysis Lead in the preparation of match analysis content including opposition, pre-match and post-match analysis.
 - To undertake tasks with regards to recruitment analysis.
 - To act as a supporting member of staff helping with day-to-day tasks around the training ground and on home match days.
-

Main responsibilities:

- Adhere to all relevant regulatory bodies and legislation while maintaining professional conduct.
- Comply with all club policies regarding COVID-19.
- Assist the department lead with the preparation and delivery of opposition, pre-match, and post-match analysis.
- Create individual clips of club players.
- Assist the department lead with tasks pertaining to recruitment of playing staff.
- Use data sources to identify, track and monitor players from senior & youth markets.
- Create video analysis reports on targeted players to support decision-making process.
- Assist where required with live opposition analysis.
- Aid with collection of GPS and HR data if required.

This internship is a full-time voluntary position and is highly suitable for students aiming to seek exposure to First Team Professional Football (3rd or Final Year Sports Performance Analysis Student/Related Field or MSc Performance Analysis Students). The successful applicant will gain valuable insight into the working of, and play an active role in, the analysis department of a professional EFL club.

Desirable:

- FA Level Two in Football Coaching (or higher).
 - Other industry relevant qualifications (FA, PFSA, IPSO, etc)
 - Apple Mac experience alongside Keynote, iMovie, and Excel.
 - Experience with Hudl Sportscodel, Statsbomb, and Wyscout.
 - Data visualisation experience such as Tableau and R.
 - Own transport.
-

This description should serve as a guide only and should not be considered absolute or exhaustive. The purpose of this description is to indicate the areas of activity to which the role pertains and may be amended in line with the changing needs of the organisation.

If you feel you meet the criteria, please email your CV, a short covering letter (max 250 words) and examples of work to Analysis Lead Lewis Dunwoody -- analysis@barrowafc.com.

Applications sent via alternative means will not be processed.

Please send your applications in by 9:00am on Wednesday 14th July 2021.
